On October 22, 1790, Gov. Blount performed his first official act by laying off and organizing Washington County. This was speedily followed by laying off and organizing the remaining counties embraced in the North Carolina cession into corresponding counties of the territory: Sullivan, Greene, Davidson, Sumner, Hawkins and Tennessee. As each county was designated, the governor made the administration of its affairs effective by establishing court and military organizations and appointing county officers - magistrates, sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, constables, registers, coroners, clerks of court, county attorneys and militia officers. Among those appointed to county offices were a number of men who had been more or less prominent in the settlements, namely: John Sevier, James Robertson, James Winchester, Landon Carter, Charles Roberson, James Allison, John Rhea, David Allison, Edward Tate, James White, Stockley Donnelson, Joseph McMinn, Francis Alexander Ramsey, John Rains, ANDREW EWING, Isaac Bledsoe, Kasper Mansker, Ezekiel Polk, Luke Lea, Charles McClung, NICHOLAS PERKINS and Howell Tatum.

The territory was divided into two judicial districts, Washington: consisting of Washington, Sullivan, Hawkins and Greene counties; and Mero: consisting of the counties of Davidson, Sumner and Tennessee.

"Maury County Will Book" page 181: Andrew F. EWING's will, recorded 26 August 1829; wife Margaret, daughter Malissa..."legacy to me from the estate of my uncle James EWING, deceased of Bedford County"... my wife's sister Mary CUNNINGHAM to have a home with my wife and daughter for herself and slaves during her natural life or celibacy... the legacy falling to me of my father's estate, after the death of my mother.... until Malissa comes of age or marries unless my wife marries... nephew Andrew Simpson EWING, brother-in-law Samuel T. CUNNINGHAM's first child that he has that lives to be grown; niece Jane Emeline EWING; niece Margaret Eleanor HILL; wife Margaret and brother George EWING to be executors, signed 13 September 1828; witnesses: Samuel Ewing, Hezekiah Oliver, Middleton Hil____; Arthur M. Smith. George EWING renounced his rights as executor in open court."

Andrew married Margaret CUNNINGHAM, daughter of Rev. Robert CUNNINGHAM.

Mary married Dr. Robert Green MCCLURE C.S.A., son of WILLIAM E. MCCLURE * and Eleanor Ewing PURDOM * "Nellie", on 5 Jan 1847. Robert was born⁵ 12 Apr 1824 in Lewisburg, TN. He died 18 Jun 1881 in Lewisburg, TN.

Robert G. McClure was a physician and lived all his life in or around Lewisburg, Marshall Co., Tennessee. He served during the Civil War with the 41st Regiment Tennessee Volunteers.

Lieut Col. Robert G. McClure was listed as prisoner of war 1 Mar 1862 at Boston Harbor, Massachusetts. His organization was given as 41st Regiment Tennessee Volunteers under Col. Robert Farquharson. He was listed as exchanged 27 Aug, 1862.

In 1871 the people of Marshall voted an appropriation of $315,000, to the propose building of the Cumberland & Ohio Railroad through the county. In 1873 the amount was divided, $200,000 being still appropriated to the above road, and $115,000 to the Duck River Valley Railroad. The panic of 1873 destroyed the hopes of the Cumberland & Ohio Road; but the Duck River Valley Road was completed to Lewisburg from Columbia, in April, 1877, and in October, 1879, it was completed to the Lincoln County line. Besides the $115,000 a large individual subscription was raised. Dr. R. G. MCCLURE and Col. J. H. Lewis were instrumental in securing the road. Dr. McClure was president of the company for three years and was succeeded by Col. Lewis, who was president two years previous to its lease to the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Road. Marshall County issued bonds for the $115,000. The railroad tax pays the interest on these bonds and also creates a sinking fund, by which the debt has been reduced to $87,600. This road supplies the much needed outlet for grain which has so long been felt, and it has been the means of placing Marshall high in the rank of agricultural counties of the State.

On the outbreak of the war with Mexico two companies from Marshall were enlisted, one of infantry and one of cavalry. The infantry company was attached to the First Regiment, and was commanded by Capt. Harris Maulden. The lieutenants were W. P. Davis and Wade McCrary; L. Cooper, A. G. Cooper, J. E. Fowler and R. H. McCrary, were sergeants, and H. Hardin, T. F. Winston, Willis Collins and Elisha Luna, were corporals. The muster roll included William Acuff, John Alexander, N. W. Burks, T. A. Bostwick, Alex Bingham, I. B. Cook, Samuel Davis, J. F. Davidson, B. C. Dobson, E. R. Dabney, W. W. Emmerson, J. C. Emmerson, Q. C. Fleming, W. T. Fossett, William Griffin, Joseph

Hall, J. B. Kiecham, R. S. Luna, B. F. Luna, A. M. Meadows, Hampton Myers, J. H. Nichols, W. H. Peacock, Moxey Rone, R. R. Maney, T. J. Stokes, Mirach Shehane, G. H. Shehane, J. F. Shehane, R. C. Williams, J. R. Owensby, John Arnold, W. S. Bowers, Isaac Bearden, J. L. Bryant, M. B. Carter, O. Clark, A. S. Duvall, C. Dickson, William Dodd, William Ewing, M. Fowler, T. C. Fluty, G. W. Fluty, R. L. B. Gray, E. H. Gray, James Hagan, Alex Jackson, J. B. Luna, J. A. Moore, R. W. Moore, J. A. Morton, John M. Parks, W. C. Porch, I. Stone, A. P. Short, Elias Snell, F. E. Smith, J. H. Walls, J. Thompson, J. B. Wyatt and James Freeman. The company marched from Lewisburg to Nashville by way of Stegall's Mills, Mr. McEwen's and Beech's farms. The company left Lewisburg May 31, and reached Nashville June 3, boarded the "Commune" on the 6th of June, and was transferred to the "Tennessee" at Smithland on the 8th, and arrived at New Orleans on the 13th. On the 17th the regiment embarked on the "E. N. Chapman," and on the 20th anchored off the Brazos. The regiment was carried up the Rio Grande by vessel and landed at Camargo, thence marched to Monterey, where it took part in that severe engagement, which resulted in the capture of that town. The regiment suffered not only in the battle but terribly from fevers and other diseases. On December 19 the two Tennessee infantry regiments were formed into a brigade under Col. W. B. Campbell. After considerable marching and some desultory fighting, the regiment was put on board the "Jubilee" February 26, and moved to Vera Cruz, where it arrived March 11, and landed March 12. The regiments continued in the siege of Vera Cruz till its capitulation on the 27th. The men were severely engaged at the battle and capture of Cerro Gordo on April 18. The twelve months' men went as far as Jalapa, when they were ordered to Vera Cruz to be discharged. The men arrived at Vera Cruz On May 10, and on the 11th they took ship for New Orleans, where they arrived on the 21st. They were mustered out and paid off May 26. The company arrived at Nashville June 2, and returned home June 5. Of the seventy-three men enlisted in the company forty-three were killed, discharged or died of disease.

The cavalry company was commanded by Capt. Milton A. Haynes. The commissioned and non-commissioned officers were W. B. Richardson, William Chambliss, William Brownlow, Jr., Robert G. MCCLURE, Joseph A. Clayton, J. R. Haynes, R. M. Patterson, Joseph Gresham, John G. Taylor and A. J. Nance. The company was organized at Cornersville, and mustered into the service at Nashville June 8, 1846. The place of rendezvous for the cavalry was near Memphis. These troops proceeded to Mexico by way of Little Rock and Washington, Ark., and through Titus County, Tex. The company consisted of ten officers, eighty privates, two buglers and one blacksmith.

One company from Marshall composed of 101 men was sent to the Forty-first. This company was known as the Lewisburg and Cornersville Company. The company officers of this company were R. G. McClure, captain; J. C. Osborn, J. M. Vancleave and R. P. Robins, lieutenants. The regimental officers at first were Robert Farquaharson, colonel; R. G. McClure, lieutenant-colonel, and T. G. Miller, major. On re-organization, Farquaharson was re-elected colonel, J. D. Tillman, lieutenant-colonel, and T. G. Miller, major. From Camp Trousdale the Forty-first was sent to Bowling Green, thence on December 23d to Fort Donelson, where it was captured February 15, 1862. The men were exchanged at Vicksburg in September and the regiment reorganized at Clinton. The regiment marched and counter-marched through Tennessee and northern Mississippi till January, 1863, when it was ordered to Port Hudson. On May 2 it was ordered to Jackson to avert the doom overhanging Pemberton and Vicksburg. After the fall of Vicksburg it was ordered, September 7, to Mobile. It did guard duty on the coast for a time, but was ordered up to Chickamauga and again joined Johnston's army at Dalton in May, 1864. It took part in the Atlanta campaign till the fall of Atlanta; thence was ordered into Tennessee; was at Franklin and Nashville and was then sent to North Carolina, where it surrendered at the close of the war. Its brigade commanders were Bushrod, Johnson, Maney, Gregg and Strahl.

Carrie married John B. KNOX of Anniston, AL.

One of Rebecca Ewing and John McClure's descendants was Dr. ROBERT G. MCCLURE who married Mary E. EWING, they were in Marshall County, TN. Their daughter was Carrie McClure who married John B. KNOX of Anniston, AL:

Author: Brant & Fuller (1893)

JOHN B. KNOX, a prominent young attorney at Anniston, Ala., was born in Talladega county, in 1857. He is a son of James C. and Mary J. (Bowie) Knox, the former of whom was a native of Georgia, who came to Alabama in 1833, and was one of the leading physicians of Alabama in his day. Miss Mary J. Bowie was a native of South Carolina and a daughter of Alexander W. and Susan (Jack) Bowie, the former of whom was chancellor of his district for many years. John B. Knox was reared in Alabama, received a good common school education, and began the study of law when eighteen years of age. He was admitted to the bar in 1878 and began the practice of law in Talladega, remaining there until January 1, 1889. He, at that time, removed to Anniston, and at once entered upon the practice of the profession there, and is now one of the most prominent attorneys in the city. He has also taken an active interest in politics, and was a delegate at large to the democratic state convention in 1888. In 1884 he was married to Miss CARRIE McCLURE, of Marshall county, Tenn., daughter of Dr. Robert G. and Mary E. (Ewing) McClure. To this marriage have been born two children, Carrie McC. and Mary L. Mrs. Knox was born and reared in Tennessee and both she and her husband are members of the Presbyterian church. The Knox family, to which John B. Knox belongs, is directly descended from John Knox, the great Scottish reformer, who was the principal author of the original confession of faith of the reformed church. Mr. Knox is one of the leading attorneys of Calhoun county and has a large practice. He is also one of the leading politicians of the democratic party in this county. For so young a man Mr. Knox has made great and commendable progress, and from such a beginning almost any attainable success may be predicted.

Notes of Robert (Bob) McClure:

They lived in Indianapolis.

From his obituary, Indianapolis, December 1, 1927

"Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 1 -- A few hours after he had taken part in the laying of the corner stone for the great new Scottish Rite Cathedral here, Robert G. McClure, 65, former resident of Nashville and native of Lewisburg, Tenn., died suddenly at his home last night. He had for many years been active in Scottish Rite circles, was an honorary 33rd degree Mason and at the time of his death was secretary of the Scottish Rite bodies in the Indianapolis Valley.

"Funeral services will be held from the First Presbyterian Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with high officials of the Masonic Lodge attending. The body will be taken to Lewisburg for burial.

"Mr. McClure was a member of a prominent Marshall county family, the son of Dr. Robert G. McClure and Mrs. Mary Ewing McClure. His father was active in the medical profession prior to the Civil War, served as a lieutenant in the 41 st Tennessee regiment during the war, and was subsequently, clerk and commissioner of the chancery court of Marshall county.

"In 1871 {this must be wrong --RMM} he entered the University of Mississippi and from this institution and later from Southwestern Presbyterian University in Clarksville he received his education. After he completed his education he lived for a time in Nashville, going to Kansas City in 1886 with the Bank of Commerce. He was connected with this institution and with the Standard Oil Company until 1896 when he came to Nashville to enter the legal profession. In 1902 he went to Indianapolis where he was president of the American Oil and Refining Company.

"Besides his wife, Mr. McClure is survived by a son, Dr. Robert Locke McClure of Indianapolis, and three sisters, Mrs. S. K. Harwell of Nashville, Mrs. John B. Knox of Anniston, AL, and Mrs. Charles Hotchkiss of Tacoma, WA."

Robert married Jane Locke BRADFORD. Jane was born 26 Feb 1864 in Davidson County, TN. She died in Davidson County, TN.
